The best book I have ever read about our feline friends. Each author shows its love of cats. I highly recommend this book to anybody who has or does not have a cat. "The Power of the Purr" was one of the best of the short stories. The compassion shown by both the author and our animal friends makes you feel good inside. Thanks Gail.

The stories aren't anything much. Some are so scant it makes you wonder why they were included. Anyone who has a cat already has better stories than these. Not really worth the money (it'd have been better had I just contributed the cost of this book to my local animal shelter).

Hello, I am Prince Charles the cat. My mom Linda read stories from this book to me. I loved some of them. Cats, as you know, are opinionated. Since I am a very smart cat, I think the book could have been written in mew or meow language. It was a fun read.

An opportunity to read about the experiences of cat owners and the escapades of their feline friends. The stories run the gambit from serious to laughable. And as always with cats you never doubt who is in charge and it's not the owner! I know this clearly as the story of my two cats is the last one in this book.

This is an excellent book for cat lovers, filled with short stories both happy and sad.

This is a book of stories about cats in people's lives. It's like getting to know your neighbors and the cats that live in their homes; how the people view the cat(s), how the cat(s) came to be in the family and how they appear to feel about their human companion. If you like short loving stories about animals, you'll love Cup of Comfort for Cat Lovers as I do.

You can't meet the mysterious eyes of a cat and not think about what she's been up to. Now we know. Cup of Comfort for Cat Lovers is a delightful anthology that includes 50 kitty-inspired tales guaranteed to charm any feline fan. Whether you're in the mood for a laugh or a tug of the heartstrings, this satisfying volume delivers.

Wasn't quite as good as the format for the one for Christmas. I was a little disappointed. Didn't get to finish reading all the stories as it was a gift for someone that loves cats.
