Little House Living: The Make-Your-Own Guide To A Frugal, Simple, And Self-Sufficient Life

Synopsis

From the immensely popular blogger behind Little House Living comes a motivational homemaking book, inspired by Laura Ingalls Wilder's Little House on the Prairie, featuring creative, fun ways to live your life simply and frugally "perfect for fans of Ree Drummond's The Pioneer Woman. Shortly after getting married, Merissa Alink and her husband found themselves with nothing in their pantry but a package of spaghetti and some breadcrumbs. Their life had hit rock bottom, and it was only after a touching act of charity that they were able to get on their feet again. Inspired by this gesture of kindness as well as the beloved Little House on the Prairie books, Merissa found that a life of self-sufficiency and simplicity could be charming and blissful. She set out to live an entirely made-from-scratch life, the "Little House" way, and as a result, she slashed her household budget by nearly half "saving thousands of dollars a year. She started to write about homesteading, homemaking, and cooking from scratch, and over the next few years developed the recipes and DIY projects that would one day become part of her now beloved website, LittleHouseLiving.com. As whole foods became staples of the family diet, Merissa realized the dangers of putting overly processed ingredients not only into our bodies, but on or near them as well. In addition to countless delicious, home-cooked meals, she developed natural, easy-to-make recipes for everything from sunscreen to taco seasoning mix, lemon poppy hand scrub to furniture polish. With their simple ingredients, these recipes are allergen friendly and many are gluten-free. With over 130 practical, simple DIY recipes, gorgeous full-color photographs, and Merissa's trademark charm in personal stories and tips, Little House Living is the epitome of heartland warmth and prairie inspiration.

Little House Living: The Make Your Own Guide to a Frugal, Simple, Self-Sufficient Life by Merissa Alink is a 2015 Gallery Books publication. I was provided a copy of this book as an XOXpert, the official street team of XOXO After Dark. I admit I grew up in the era of quick and convenient. I bought pre-mixed cake mixes and scoffed at the idea of making anything from scratch. Instead of home remedies, I bought over the counter pain relievers and cold medicines, and never would have considered making my own soap, dish detergent, or other household products. But, my daughter would tell me about making her own facial scrubs and using peppermint essential oils for various maladies, but I still never imagined myself doing any of these things myself. First of all, you have to buy all the ingredients, and when I did the math, and figured in the amount of time it would take, I figured I was just as well off buying it from the store until I got this book. First of all, it should be noted that this is not just a recipe book for cooking or food. This book has a little bit of everything in it. Body and Beauty 'do it yourself' recipes such as: Bath Salts Lip Balm Hand Soap Chest Rub Household items such as: Dish Soap Floor Cleaner Dusting Spray and furniture polish Window Cleaner Ideas for Children and Pets Diaper Rash Cream Play Doh Pet treat mix Pet Flea Wash And of course food- Make ahead mixes: cake mix Hamburger help mix Onion soup Hot chocolate Bread These are just a few examples of the items listed that you can make yourself at home. Are you on a busy schedule and don't think you would have time to make your own products? This book is packed with very easy recipes for those on a busy schedule, such as deodorizer disc made out of everyday baking soda and water with a drop or two of essential oils, placed in a muffin tin and left to dry for a day or two. The disc can be placed discretely in odor prone areas of your home. It took me all of five minutes to do this, and the essential oil is not necessary. Baking soda is a natural odor absorber. The cost? Well, for some of the projects, there would have to be some investment on your part, especially if you want to put the mixtures into cute containers and such. I made the chest rub, but I didn't have a glass jar to put it in, but I did have a very small Tupperware container that worked perfectly. Most of the ingredients can be purchased at for less than buying them at a health food store, and I had no trouble finding the ingredients. A few items were a little pricey, but once I had everything I needed, I saw that I could make double, even triple, the amount of goods, which meant I saved money and time by making the items at home. The Items I Made: I made the chocolate cake mix and the cake turned out great, but it wasn't as moist I am accustomed to. But, the flavor was fantastic and there were some variants on the recipe that I may try in the future. Bath Salts: I made bath salts for colds: This is super easy- One half cup Epsom Salts One half cup Sea Salt (I bought bulk, because it was cheaper) 5 drops peppermint essential oil 5 drops eucalyptus essential oil 5 drops lavender essential oil Just mix together! That's it! I also made the chest rub which was simply coconut oil and peppermint and eucalyptus essential oils. Just stir together, and store in a container. It took less than five minutes to make this and it smells like chest rub you buy at the store. I rubbed some on the soles of my feet one day when my allergies were bothering me, and it worked wonders. As I noted earlier, I made the deodorizer disc, too. But, the disc dried out quickly and broke easily. I ended up putting some of the mix into small Dixie Cups instead. I also made the dusting spray which consisted of white vinegar and oil (I used EVOO) and a few drops of lemon essential oil. Overall, this is a fun book and I loved how easy it was to make the products and the ingredients weren't some kind exotic stuff I could never find anywhere. I'm planning on making more of the food recipes and want to make up some of the body butter for Christmas gifts. The only disclaimer I noticed was in regards to the use of essential oils, so be sure to read the directions carefully and do not allow children to use the oils unattended, or at all if they are very young. This is a hardcover book with color pictures and illustrations on glossy paper. The sections are well organized and planned out, with step by step instructions and money saving tips. Overall, I am a happy customer and will be referring to this book often for many household items and beauty aids.

What a great book to get you started on a life of wholesome living at a bargain! I love the "recipes" for so many things I used to purchase at much higher costs, plus I am able to use my own organic ingredients to make them my own. I plan to purchase other copies of this book for gifts.

I read any book I can get my hands on related to homemaking. I figured I may find many repeats of information I already had but was so surprised to find that not be the case. The ideas and recipes in the book have a twist on them from others that I have found, making them one step above!! It is really a fantastic book, love the layout, pics and everything about it! One word of warning... do not read late at night because you are going to want to jump up and start making everything in the book and you will never get to bed!!! I cannot wait to start making the mixes!! And the personal care... oh and the cleaning supplies....

I absolutely love this book. I thought the recipes would be too complicated but it's very simple. And it includes tons of recipes for cleaners and other things besides food!

This is an excellent book. Easy to follow recipes for food and homemade body and beauty products for all members of the family that are inexpensive. Beautiful pictures to enjoy. When you open the book and start reading it you almost feel like the author is in your home. This is the best book I have read in a long time. Can't say enough about it!!

A perfect book for the new (or veteran) cook, DIYer, or anyone looking to become more self-sufficient. This book is filled with with easy-to-follow recipes that cover almost everything you need in your kitchen, home and for the kids. I love that if I run out of dishwashing detergent, I can make my own, following the recipe in this book. I also love the expansive section on DIY mixes, which are incredibly convenient for busy moms who still want to create homemade treats.

I love this book almost as much as I love her blog.No wait-I love this book equally as much. Her warm sense of humor and grace comes across at every example. She writes from her experiences and doesn't spare the headache that having a //really// tight budget can create. I love her honesty and her ingenuity. Now, on to the review of the book itself:I love the book! I actually took it with me to my mother's house yesterday and she looked over it to pick out what she wanted to try. I purchased the book for myself as an early birthday present in December, and it's become one of my favorite DIY resources. (And I have quite a few.)The recipes work smashingly well, and I'm looking forward to slightly warmer weather (and a few more hours to create things here and there) in order to fully actualize the potential that this book has.I'm hopeful she will publish another in due time-I'll be one of the first in line. Brava madame!
